

ABSTRACT

Allo-, iso- and xenoantigens, chosen from histocompatibility molecules obtained by extraction from homogenates of tissues or cells with Nonidet P40 or 1 N  $\text{HClO}_4$ , are disclosed for use as a medicament for stimulation of the immune system of man and mammals, and in particular for cancer therapy. (fig. 2)